

REV. PAM'S REFLECTIONS

For May of 2011

The weather is finally clearing and we're being called out of the cozy nests of our homes back out into the beauty of nature and our world. As flowers blossom, the fawns appear, and sunshine fills our days we are reminded of the springing forth of new life ~ within us as well as in our shared world.

I will be departing on Sunday for my Spiritual Sabbatical in which I will journey to three sacred places that are deeply important to me. As I go, I will be carrying all of you in my heart. As I experience things, I will share them with you through this web site. As I return, I pray that I bring back new inspiration and renewed dedication. All new energies springing forth.

One of my favorite quotes comes from St. Augustine,

And as a devoted reader as well as a "Celtic Gypsy" it touches me at many levels. He wrote, "The world is a book, and those who do not travel read only one page." Reflect for a moment on how you can open to a new page this spring . . . perhaps travel to North Beach for a walk . . . read a book that takes you to other realms of thought, or meditate on where you should next go on your own soul journey. The world is calling you to blossom. It's time.
